

Developing Collaborative Practice— The Victorian Experience

Join us for this engaging workshop facilitated by experienced and enthusiastic Collaborative Practitioners, Catherine Gale and Caroline Counsel. Catherine and Caroline have developed a strong collaborative practice group in Victoria and have worked on in excess of 20 collaborative matters to—Hear from two practitioners on their experiences in developing Collaborative Practice with both their peers and their clients.

The workshop format will enable focus on the following areas—

- An overview of the Victorian experience. Where are they now?
- What has been the experience of Caroline and Catherine in the development of their individual practices – the mistakes they made, the lessons they have learned, the ideas they can share with us?
- What marketing/advertising should we do as a group/individually to develop our practice?
- What organisation/s should we be members of and what further steps should we be taking in the development of the practice long term?
